Description

Organizations are transitioning at a rapid pace to new, emerging technologies that require new skillsets as well as updates to existing skills. However, this can present challenges on multiple fronts; budget constraints, time available to pursue training, just-in-time skills requirements, and the need to train while maintaining productivity levels. Leverage the exclusive benefits of this unique training solution for small teams.

On-Demand Subscription is an ideal solution for those on a tight schedule and budget. This offering provides a simplified user experience to access on-demand training for small teams, allowing up to 4 users full access to 350+ Video ILT and e-Learning courses for a period of one year.
